The Klamath River Renewal Corporation (KRRRC) is hosting a series of open house meetings for the public on the evenings of November 7-9th.

Under the terms of the amended Klamath Hydroelectric Settlement Agreement, KRRRC is charged with removing four PacifiCorp dams on the Klamath River (JC Boyle, Copco, No. 1 & 2, and Iron Gate), restoring formerly inundated lands, and implementing required mitigation measures in compliance with all applicable federal, state, and local regulations.

The purpose of the open house meetings is to provide an opportunity for residents of the Klamath Basin to meet KRRRC staff, board members and consultants, learn about KRRRC's project and objectives, and ask questions. At each open house, residents will be invited to visit a series of stations organized around topics on interest, including project scope and timeline, jobs, other project benefits, and project impacts.

Meeting details are as follows:

November 7, Klamath Falls

Oregon Institute of Technology, 6:00-8:00 pm
College Union Building, Room 201 A/B (Mazama/Scott)
3201 Campus Dr., Klamath Falls, OR

November 8, Yreka

Best Western Miner's Inn [Auditorium], 6:00-8:00 pm
122 E Miner St., Yreka, CA

November 9, Eureka

Adorni Center Gymnasium, 6:00-8:00 pm
1011 Waterfront Dr., Eureka, CA

KRRRC is an independent non-profit corporation. Open Houses are for informational purposes only. The information and opinions presented at open houses are intended to assist attendees in understanding KRRC's proposed activities. KRRC is not a government agency and does not speak for, or have the ability to bind, any government agency. Open House comments will not be incorporated into the official public records of the government agencies responsible for reviewing KRRC's permit or license applications.

About KRRC

The Klamath River Renewal Corporation (KRRC) is an independent nonprofit organization formed in 2016 as part of the amended Klamath Hydroelectric Settlement Agreement (KHSA). KRRC is part of a cooperative effort to re-establish the natural vitality of the Klamath River so that it can support all communities in the basin. Signatories of the amended KHSA, including the States of California and Oregon, local governments, Tribal nations, dam owner PacifiCorp, irrigators, and several conservation and fishing groups, appointed KRRC to take ownership of four PacifiCorp dams — JC Boyle, Copco, No. 1 & 2, and Iron Gate — and then remove these dams, restore formerly inundated lands, and implement required mitigation measures in compliance with all applicable federal, state, and local regulations. KRRC's work is funded by PacifiCorp customer surcharges and California Proposition 1 water bond funds.

KRRC values transparency and cooperation with all stakeholders and is committed to working with residents and governments to minimize any nuisance or negative impacts while enhancing the project's local benefits. The people of the Klamath basin will continue to work together during and after dam removal to take further steps toward a shared, sustainable future.
